

SALON

PRESENTED BY
DALLAS THEATER CENTER GUILD
AND
DALLAS THEATER CENTER
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

The Salon Series is inspired by the fashionable gatherings of the 17th century as well as post-war Paris. The French word “salon” means a conversational gathering. At these salons, intellectuals, artists and social luminaries would gather to discuss topics of culture, politics and art. The Dallas Theater Center Guild’s Salon Series features a discussion on a play from the current theatrical season. The popularity of the Series has resulted in using larger venues when appropriate.

This year’s Salon features the play Inherit the Wind. The program is a panel discussion moderated by Dallas Theater Center Artistic Director, Kevin Moriarty, spotlighting experts from Southern Methodist University –The Rev. William Jennings Bryan III, theologian, and Dr. John G. Wise, biologist –as well as cast members from the play. They will discuss themes elicited from the famous Scopes Monkey trial of 1925, which are still making news today!
In this tradition, the Dallas Theater Center Guild welcomes you to our seventh annual Salon.
